

L.A. Living: A Century Ago

Hosted by: Liz Mohler, Joan Reitzel and Jeanette Young

When: Sunday, March 18

Time: 11:45a.m.-7:00p.m.

Max. # Guests: 8

Price: $25

Guests will carpool after 10:00a.m. coffee hour.

*T*our two sites off the historic Arroyo Seco Parkway, northeast of down L.A.

We'll visit the home of Charles Lummis. In 1884 he walked from this to L.A. and became the first City Editor of the L.A. Times. Later he became the city librarian and an Indian rights activist. His home is "El Alisal" named for a large sycamore tree in the courtyard.

The second tour will involve the nearby Heritage Square Museum, which has buildings of the same period. After the tours we will enjoy supper in Luther Hall with foods/recipes of the era.

